Saying, "Good Bye," to THS

Mr. Addo
Teacher of Mathematics
Left THS to teach in Japan

There aren't enough tears or words to express the love I have for my students. To know that they love me this much fuels me to the point that any dream I have is possible. They are GOD's answers to pray in my life every happy, sad, normal or unique moment with them was GOD touching and perfecting me. My mentor calls those GOD moments.

Their love for me has been pure, unmatched, and more than I could ever ask for. They thank GOD for me being in their lives even when the fact remains that I needed them more. I love them all with all my heart and they give meaning to my life on levels they don't even understand.

To every single student, I thank you.
Addo the teacher

Ms. Wilson
Teacher of Health and Physical Education
Left THS to become the Athletic Director at Malcolm X Shabazz High School

My Dear Seniors,

I can hardly believe how much time has gone by, now that you are graduating. I remember when you first came to Technology High School. I met some of you on your first day in the Summer Bridge Program. I then met more of you the first day in Health and PE class. Some of you came along later in the year. I remember also that some of you thought that I had E.S.P. because I knew your nickname and what your favorite thing to do or say was, before I even knew you. I did not have ESP, but let's just say I knew from the day I met you that I would have my hands full! The best part was that you also knew that (as some of you would say) "Ms. Wilson is no joke," and "I am not going to get over on Ms. Wilson." Some of your other memorable quotes were...

- "Oh my goodness why do we have to sit in a squad."
- "Why do I have to learn to serve the volleyball, I just want to play!"
- "You called my mother /father!"
- ...and best one of all, "Ms. Wilson gets on my nerves!!"

As you step out on your new journey, my expectation is that each and every one of you make your mark on the world. I pray that you make the world a better place to live, grow, and raise our children. Well see, I had great expectations for you from the beginning and nothing has changed.

I believe in you now as I have always believed in you. (That's why I was not afraid of getting on your nerves)!

Yes, we have had our ups and downs in our four years at Technology H.S., but as you have learned; that is the way of the world!

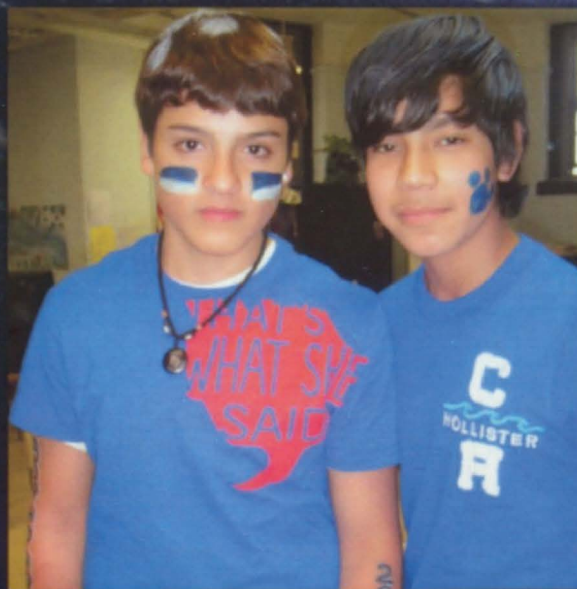

Even though life may challenge you remember to...
Keep your chin high, always find a reason to smile, and never ever give up!

I believe in your power and you should too!
Best Wishes Now and Always
Love,
Ms. Wilson

THS Senior Athletes of Other Sports

Kevin Lopez played Hockey for East Side High School. He is pictured in his Princeton shirt.

Because of Kevin's dedication to the sport and academics ...and with some help from the Devils, he'll be attending Princeton University in the fall...and on his way to a career as a medical doctor.

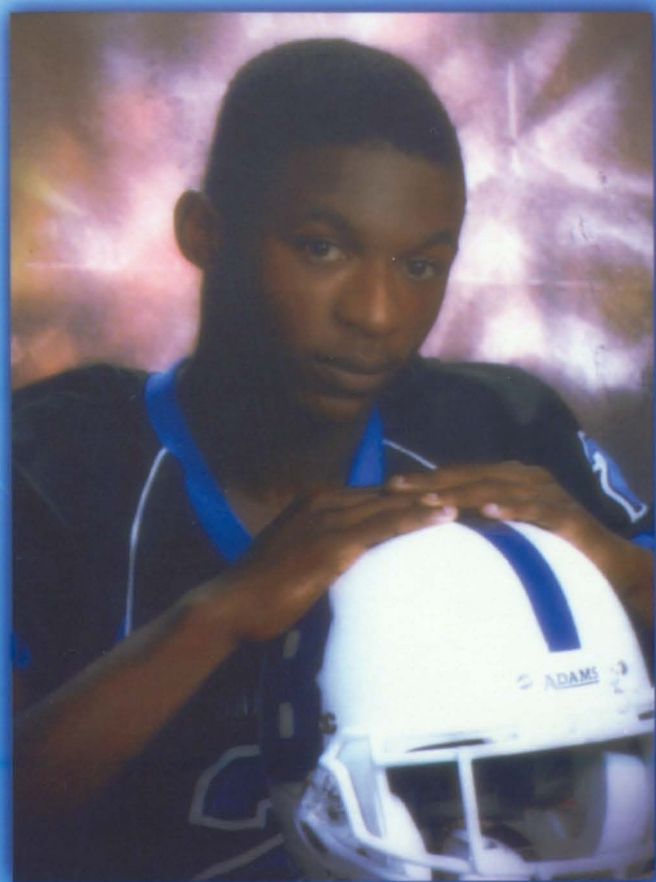

Sometimes all that dedication is exhausting.

Shafeeq Davis-Holcomb, another all around THS athlete, played football for Barringer High School.

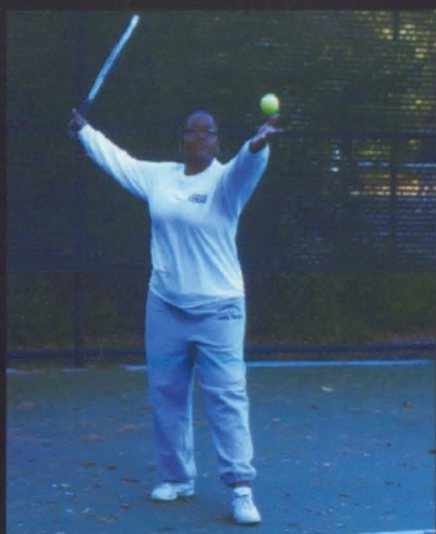

Jorge Luis Lopez wrestled on the Varsity Wrestling Team at East Side High School.

Robotics

During the 5th week of the Robotics season, THS team 714 managed to win one of the final matches. Thanks to the innovative robot design team captain, the robot was balanced on the bridge in the last second. At this regional event, the team also won the Excellence in Engineering Award, one of the highest levels of recognition.

The 2012 Game Challenge was to design and build a robot that would not only be able to play basketball, but most importantly meet the quality standard of FIRST. On the left we have team captain, Juan Merchan, running a test before a match. Below, we see the robots running before ship day.

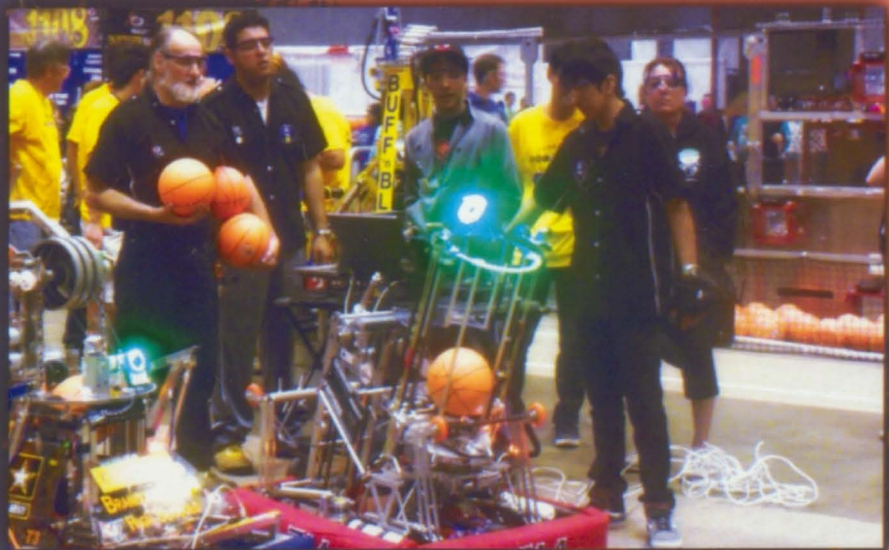

The matches took place on a basketball size field with four scoring hoops in each side and three bridges in the center of the field. Above we have the field for the Newton division at the championship tournament, the school's team competed in this field and had a record of seven wins and only two losses.

This year the school's team accomplished something that has never been done by any other team in the city. The team won five different awards in four events. The members of the robotics team dedicated every minute of their lives to the development of the robot from the beginning of the season in January to the last competition in April. The team has clearly demonstrated that sky is the limit, and thanks their determination, our robotics team is recognized nationally.

Barat Grant & Newark Art Parade

Early this year, Ms. Dahlberg's B-Day seniors and freshmen classes were lucky to take part in a Barat Foundation Grant. Arianna Barat was the visiting artist who guided THS students in the design and painting of a large panther sculpture. In October, the panther was pulled down Broad St. in the Art Parade that ended in a celebration at Washington Park.

Students researched ideas for their designs on the internet in the computer labs, transferred to tracing paper and then onto the pre-cut panther pieces. The panther was painted with acrylic paint. After the parade the panther was placed in our lobby.

The ancient Chinese philosopher, Laozi, once said, "A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step." As you continue your journey, I hope you will be able to look back on your memories: the good, the bad, and the ugly, and be proud of where you came from and where you are now. - Jenice Dennis

"Happy Trails!" from the Yearbook Staff

High school yearbooks find their way onto book shelves, under beds, and into attic boxes. As you move along in your lives, you'll come across this book and flip through the pages. You'll point to people you knew well, you'll slide your hand across certain pictures that will make you remember a good time... and you'll smile. You'll see a face and wonder how that person is doing. At some point, you'll look at the clothes you wore or the way you wore your hair and you won't believe you had the nerve to leave your house. You'll hear about someone whose name you remember but whose face you've forgotten. You'll get this book from its place, look up that name, and remember. That's what yearbooks are for.

This yearbook was put together by several people who did their best to ensure that the images represent the time you spent at Technology High School. As editor, Jenice Dennis worked diligently to create a yearbook that was democratic in scope while remaining philosophically and visually true to the theme: Destinations. Ashley Christmas kept track of your baby pictures and profiles. Fernando Lazo worked on the sports pictures and photo captions. Juan Merchan became a photographer by default as we chased people down for their portraits. Ayonna Saunders and Luissanna Peralta helped Jenice with identification and whatever else she needed. There were several other people who took care of tasks on the run and we thank them, too.

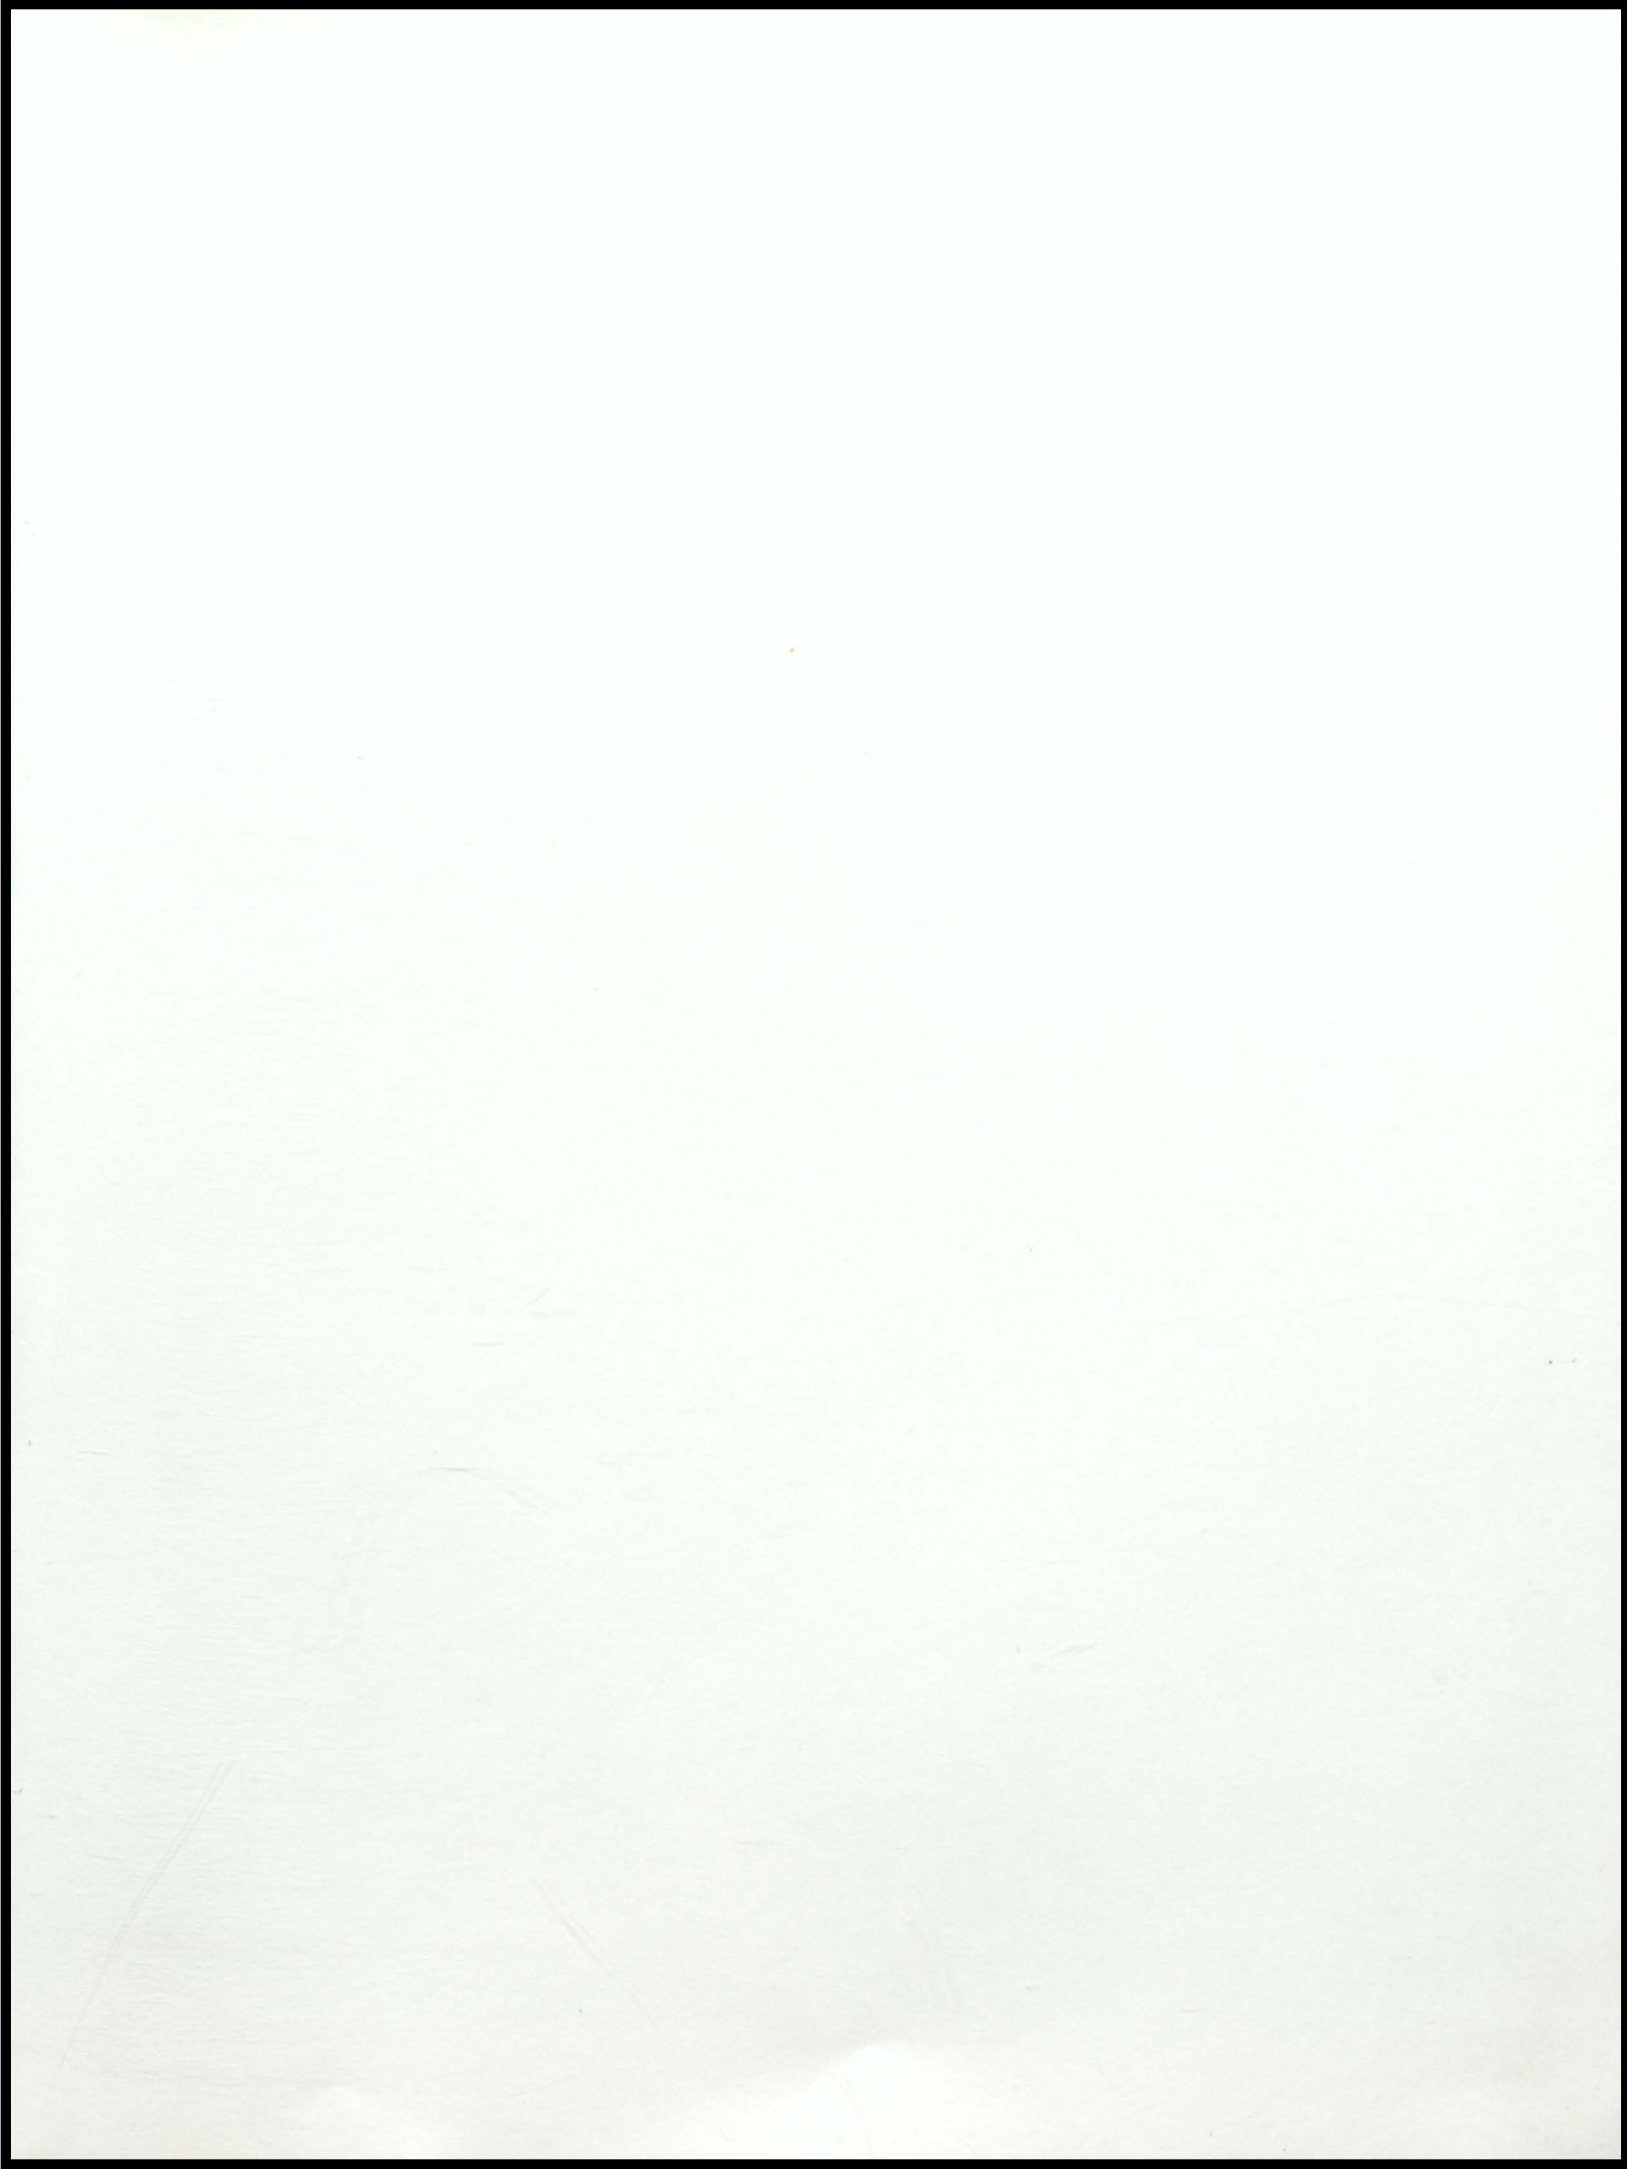

Up until this point, all of you had similar destinations - get through high school, have a plan for life after graduation, but as you move on from here you'll have more control over the direction your lives will go.

Make good choices, be healthy and happy as you leave this rather small place and venture into the world.
